Self-Discipline: The Ultimate Guide To Greatness, Get Results Most People Can Only Dream Of Tyler Green

What is the difference between people who are super disciplined, and the ones who have none? What are they doing differently, what is different in their thinking?

I was obsessed with self-discipline. I went through almost all strategies: courses, books, blogs, and articles, to answer this question. Through the learning process I understood one thing, that there is so much rubbish information on the internet. Most of these strategies which I have tried are useless and don't work. Only a few of the methods provided actually worked. Yes only a few, but those few worked like magic.

The strategies in this book are borrowed from the most disciplined and successful people on this planet. The book is written in a simple and understandable language. If you really want to take charge of your life, order a copy and accept the challenge and get results most people can only dream of.
